

As a PAY subscriber to XM radio I am deeply angered about the potential of you limiting their ability to provide me with the services that I WANT and am willing to pay for. Why should I not have the choice and who are you to tell me what I can listen to (especially if I am willing to pay for the service). If the NAB community is so concerned about the loss of my listening to one of their stations, then maybe they should offer me what I want to hear like XM does. They actually ask me what I want and they they play it. What a concept!! Give the consumer what they want. I guess the NAB stations do not consider me their customer because I do not advertise so I do not pay their bills. Well guess what, without me the advertisers won't advertise so I guess I do have play a role in them making money, but they still feel they can ignore me. They can't keep customers by offering what we want so now they figure they will try to keep us by getting you to pass rules that limit the ability of their competitors to offer services we want. NO WAY! There is no VALID reason for you to limit the services that any radio station can offer. You have not done it in the past so what is different now!!? Stay out of it - let the "free market" do what it does best, those that offer what the consumer wants will survive and those that don't will not. Sounds like what our country is SUPPOSED to be all about, doesn't it?
